

Help Ant find her colony!

Did you know...

Ants raise aphids and “milk” them for their honeydew.

Ants can leave paths from their anthills to the foraging areas that are so established larger animals, such as deer, will use them.

Ants communicate with each other using their senses of smell, touch, taste, and hearing.

Ants often feed each other and will rescue related ants if they are in trouble.